- To shake the foundations of the false and outdated ideas and beliefs that have driven human behaviour as far as gender and women issues are concerned;
- To seek and re-construct better foundational ideas for better human societies, and;
- To share new designs and models for future public policies.

17:50 -18:30	Discussion  Successful women: the rule, not an exception: It seems that there are significant inequalities between men and women as active contributors to the economy and as business actors. For one reason or another, women are still relatively marginalised in this respect. This is the result of many erroneous and archaic ideas and beliefs that spawned from one generation to another. One lingering misconception is that women who succeeded in the realm of economy and business and other endeavours outside the home are an exception and not the rule.  The struggle to change this destructive mindset and narrative must continue!  Moderator: Dr. Adnan Amkhan Bayno, Director of MC Academy  Panellists: Ms. Loubna Azghoud, COO of Women in Business Ms. Sarah Bovy, Professional Racing Driver Ms. Yeba Olayé, Luxury Fashion Entrepreneur
